“Australia will need an additional 40,000 early childhood educators by 2023 ”

“One of the highest growth areas of professions in Sri Lanka”

“9 million new early childhood teachers needed worldwide”

There are lots of great reasons to choose a diploma to degree pathway.

Some students, like Jenna, use a diploma as a pathway if they haven't met the entry requirements to go straight into a degree.

A degree pathway also allows you to work in the industry sooner so you can study while working part time – sometimes with financial or other support from the employer. It can be more cost-effective to complete a diploma than the first year of a degree. When completing a pathway, you'll gain more than one qualification and mix vocational and academic learning. A vocational qualification is more hands-on and interactive, while a bachelor degree builds on that and provides academic knowledge – so you, and your employer get the best of both worlds!

FAQs

Can you do a degree after TAFE diploma?

Absolutely. TAFE enables you to use your vocational qualification as a pathway to gain entry into a bachelor degree by setting you up with the study skills to excel.

Is my education investment safe with Chisholm?

Yes. Chisholm is a government owned public institution. We operate under the strict legislative rule of the government and continuously monitored by the Australian Standards and Quality Authority (ASQA). Because we are government owned, we are guaranteed by the government. Therefore, your testamur will never become invalid.

What is the difference between a university diploma and Chisholm diploma?

Diplomas currently in the Sri Lankan higher education market are foundation studies-based diplomas. Which means, if a student does not meet the minimum entry requirement to enter into a university degree, they can undertake a diploma to meet the entry criteria. These diplomas are only a "paper qualification" recognised by the particular university which the foundation studies are attached to.

Chisholm diplomas are fully industry accredited and globally recognised vocational qualifications. Chisholm diplomas enable the diploma holder to be a trade professional and to be employed in their respective field.

Is there any industry placement during the Chisholm diploma?

Yes. There is a 12-weeks of compulsory industry placement in Australia. Chisholm will organise the placement for you.

Can I work as an early childhood educator after I receive my Chisholm diploma?

Yes, you can. Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care is an industry accredited vocational qualification. This enables you to work in the industry. The Uniqueness of Chisholm's offer is, that while you are studying for bachelor's degree, you may be able to work as an early childhood educator because you are qualified with the diploma.

How can I become an early childhood or primary school teacher?

To become a school teacher, you need to undergo three years of further studies at bachelor's degree level. Your Diploma is the first step of this journey, and you will receive advanced standing into your degree. Upon completion you will become eligible to practice as an early childhood or primary school teacher.

The Australian Government is pleased to verify that Chisholm Institute is a Government entity and Registered Training Organisation (RTO) based in Melbourne, Australia. An RTO is a training provider registered by the Australian Government through the Australian Skills and Quality Authority (ASQA) to deliver accredited vocational education and technical (VET) qualifications.

Chisholm is a large, Victorian Government (state) owned vocational education and training institution, commonly known as a technical and further education institution or TAFE. Chisholm offers nationally-accredited VET programs and Higher Education degrees that cover industry sectors including engineering, information technology, business, health, hospitality, sport, education and creative arts.

More information about ASQA accreditation can be here www.asqa.gov.au as can additional information about the Chisholm here www.chisholm.edu.au.

The Australian Government is very encouraging of collaboration between quality education institutions, and I am encouraged by Chisholm's partnership with CINEC Campus in Sri Lanka. I am pleased that a TAFE has established its footprint in Sri Lanka and will be delivering full VET qualifications in-country. I understand there will be diverse course offerings available in the near future in the areas of aged or disability care, mental health and early childhood education. These will be in addition to electro technology, electronics and communications, mechanical and fabrication engineering, automotive engineering and information technology.

Partnership such as Chisholm and CINEC help diversify the Australian education offering in Sri Lanka and contribute toward the skill needs of Sri Lanka through the potential to provide qualified VET graduates.
